IMMINENT PERIL BY BROKEN RAFT

Thrilling Adventure of Five Men on Ohio River

RAFT STRIKES PILING AND THREATENS
DESTRUCTION TO FRAIL GASOLINE BOAT.

CABLE BREAKING SAVES THEM.

Five men were in imminent peril of death by drowning yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock when a large raft struck sunken piling used by the Illinois Central transfer boat as a pier they were:

Charles Brigmeyer, Paducah.
C. B. Witzer Pearl, Ill.
Irving Witzer, Pearl, Ill.

Two unknown owners of the raft. The raft was being towed to Brookport by the gasoline boat or the Witzer brothers when the piling, which the rising river had covered, was struck. Impelled by the swift current and the strong wind, the raft broke asunder and half was forced upon the piling in a perpendicular position.

Suspended on the top of the perpendicular logs, Charles Brigmeyer, of Paducah, every moment expected to be crushed with the downward plunge of the raft. But the wind and current held the raft erect securely until he was rescued by the owners of the raft in a skiff.

At the same time, the Witzer brothers in their gasoline boat were facing instant death by the onslaught of the raft when through mistake the engine was started. The sudden jerk of the engine gave the boat a spurt, which broke the cable that tied them to the raft, and their boat shot out into the river and to safety.

Using their oars frantically, the two owners of the raft escaped danger from the heavy logs and were out in the river a hundred yards when they saw Brigmeyer's dangerous position. Without hesitation they returned to his rescue.

All experienced rivermen, they say that it was the closest call of their lives. The undertaking of towing the raft with the gasoline boat was begun reluctantly, but the urgent request of the raft owners, who said they were unable to secure help, caused them to try. Today the raft is still where it struck, half suspended perpendicularly on the piling. Between 200 and 300 heavy logs composed the raft and it had been well made up or it would have split in a hundred places when the collision with the piling occurred. To its holding together as well as it did, they owe the fact that they are alive as any one of the logs striking the frail gasoline boat or skiff would have crushed them, precipitating the occupants into the river and probably injuring them in the contact.

Helping Them Out.
Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a skiff with the owners of the raft pulled up to the dry docks and asked for help in landing the raft at Brookport. Charles Brigmeyer, the Belgian watchman of the docks, and the Witzer brothers agreed to help. The Witzer brothers came here two weeks ago from Pearl, Ill., with their gasoline boat to get repairs at the docks. They also changed the engine from 40 to 80 horse power. The three men left for the raft in the gasoline boat towing the skiff with its two occupants.

The raft was just a little above Brookport, and while the owners could handle it as long as a downstream course was followed, they were powerless to stop it or to steer it to the bank. The gasoline boat hitched a cable to the raft and started toward Brookport. Brigmeyer got out on the raft while the owners remained in their skiff and the Witzers ran the boat.

No trouble was experienced until the boat neared the bank. Then without warning, the raft struck the sunken piling and split in two pieces. The half in which Brigmeyer was standing, on striking the piling, by the force of the contact, went bodily upon it, and in almost a perpendicular position.

The end that went into the air carried Brigmeyer with it. He was thrown forward by the collision, his body falling over the ends of the logs. There he remained suspended

OFF DAY AT BOISE.
Boise, Idaho, May 11.—This is another off day for both sides in the Moyer-Haywood case, as far as attorneys are concerned, but agents for both defense and prosecution are actively examining records of men being summoned to act as jurors, and these reports are being put into shape for the attorneys' convenience.

STORY YACHT LOST.
New York, May 11.—All hope was abandoned today for Marlon Story's yacht, "Hita," with Captain Olaf Jacobson and a crew of six. It is believed she has gone to the bottom with all aboard. The yacht sailed from Miami, Florida, 42 days ago for New York, and since then nothing has been reported.

CANADA ALARMED.
Winnipeg, May 11.—Genuine alarm is felt throughout the Canadian west over our possible shortage in wheat acreage. Business in general does not appear affected by the situation, in spite of the serious tone of the discussion. Maple creek reports three inches of snow and freezing weather, destroying much of the young stock on the ranges.

CHILDREN BURN.
East Liverpool, O., May 11.—In a fire, which destroyed their home this morning, Leo, aged 7, and Ruth aged 5, children of Mrs. Nellie Laird, a poor widow, were burned to death. Three other children were rescued. Mrs. Laird was seriously injured by jumping.

MAD MARKET.
Chicago, May 11.—A mad market obtained in the wheat pit this morning. Excitement was at a fever heat as May, July and September wheat showed advances of 1 3-8 over last night's close. Trade was enormous.

GET WORST OF IT.
Pascagoula, N. J., May 11.—Burglars, who blew the safe in the general store of Alvin Webb, at Clinton, this morning, were disappointed, as they only secured 31 pounds. The thieves left a valuable gold chain, which once belonged to President Santa Anna, of Mexico.

GRAIN MARKET.
Cincinnati, May 11.—Wheat, 80; corn, 56 1/2; oats, 40.

UGH! WINTER.
Chardon, O., May 11.—Two inches of snow was on the ground today. Temperature is at freezing point. Boys snow balled passers-by on Main street.

NEW CRATERS.
Messina, Sicily, May 11.—New craters have opened in Mount Etna and Stromboli, while eruptions are increasing. Observatories at Messina and Catania continue to register slight earthquake shocks.

SPANISH CLAIMS.

ENORMOUS GAINS IN BANK RECORDS

Marked in Clearings for Same
Weeks of 1906 and 1907

Retail Trade Shows Laguer on Account of Backward Weather But Leads by Comparison.

BETTER THINGS IN STORE.

Bank clearings ..... $851,791
Same week last year... 828,772
Increase ..... $ 23,019

Two big weeks in the business world are seen in comparison of the bank clearings for the last week and the corresponding week of 1906. The increase of this week over the same week of last year is not significant, but the increase of the same week in 1906 over the corresponding week of 1905, was $170,000, showing that the gain last year was something of a spurt while the clearings this year are in keeping with a steady high record. The big clearings this week have come in spite of indifferent weather. Retail trade still shows a languor from the unseasonable weather and many lines of wholesale trade, too. But the manufacturers are still running at their capacity and the demand for unskilled labor is strong.

Real estate transactions have slackened from the inability of dealers to get customers out in bad weather. When the balance sheets are struck July 31, an increase in deposits and earnings doubtless will be shown at all the banks. A harder test of prosperity would be hard to find than the influence of the weather on trade this spring, yet the tone of conditions is still buoyant. Anticipation of better weather for the farmers and merchants points the view forward in the whole industrial world.

ROBBERS KILLED WELL KNOWN MAN

T. C. Frick, of Florence Station, received word today that his brother, L. C. Frick, a second-hand dealer at Galena, Kan., was shot and killed by robbers, who got $540. Mr. Frick had sold out to come home, when an ex-city marshal told him he would lead Mr. Frick to where gold watchmen, previously stolen from him were hidden. They went out and were held up, the marshal falling down and Mr. Frick fighting and being shot. The marshal is under arrest. L. C. Frick was 50 years old and was raised near Florence station.

LONGSHOREMEN.
New York, May 11.—Seven hundred striking longshoremen invaded the pier of the Italian line this morning, armed with clubs and hatchets and forcibly drove from the deck of the steamer Campania 150 Italian strikebreakers engaged in loading the vessels. A number were seriously injured.

Emery within a week warrants will be issued and they will have to go to Frankfort to stand trial. Many hotels and boarding houses with a license tax of $5, and soft drink dispensaries at $2.50 are included. Auditor's Agent Emery received these instructions this morning in a letter from the auditor.

MOVE POLES BACK TO OLD POSITION

Sidewalk on First Street Will Be Twelve Feet Wide and City and Telephone Company Have Trouble for Nothing.

PROPERTY OWNERS MUST PAY.

After going to all the trouble and expense of removing their telephone and light poles to the center of the pavement on First street between Broadway and Washington street, the city and the telephone company must move them back to their former positions. The specifications for the reconstruction of First street called for an eight foot pavement on the west side. Superintendent Keebler of the city lighting plant and the telephone company last week moved 11 poles back to the eight foot line following directions from the engineer's office. The general council yesterday considering a petition of property owners to make a 12 foot sidewalk, decided that it could be done provided the property owners assumed the cost of the addition and of moving the telephone and light poles back to that line. This morning men were at work putting the poles back in their old holes.

NO MORE OPERA.

Local Minstrel Organization Three Nights Next Week.

The Beggar Prince Opera company has canceled its engagement at Wallace park for tonight, owing to the inclement weather. The company opened Monday night and gave four satisfactory performances this week. The weather has been bad all week, so the park will be closed the first part of next week. The Beggar Prince company will return in August to play a two weeks' engagement, with an augmented repertoire. The Southern Plekanymin minstrels, a local organization of fun-makers, will be the attraction at the park Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

NO SPONSOR FOR WALBERT CAMP

It has been definitely decided that Walbert camp, United Confederate Veterans, will have no sponsor at the reunion at Richmond, Va. When Miss Whitefield was compelled to forego the honor a committee was appointed to consider her successor, and it was decided not to appoint anyone.

MITCHELL CASE IN HIGHER COURT

Senator Campbell Says Saloon Will Remain Closed Until Something Is Done in His Behalf—No Tips
Given Out.

MAYOR REVOKES HIS LICENSE.

Bond for an appeal was executed in the case of the commonwealth against W. M. Mitchell, saloon keeper at 1000 North Tenth street, who was fined in police court yesterday morning. The case will come up for trial in September at the regular term of court unless arrangements are made for an earlier trial, and Senator Campbell, for the defendant, stated this morning he is perfectly willing to have it tried at any time. Using as evidence the fine in police court yesterday morning, Mayor Yelzer revoked Mitchell's license and had it served. Senator Campbell refused to give out his plan of action, but on being asked whether or not Mitchell would remain closed he said: "For the present Mitchell will have to keep his saloon closed until something is done in his behalf."

ANOTHER BAND.

Prof. C. Jackson Is Increasing His Organization.

Paducah has another brass band with an instrumentation unique. Professor C. Jackson, organizer and director, started the band a year ago, taking employees of the Starks-Ullman collar and harness shops exclusively. He made a success and now has taken in others and increased his band to nearly 20 men. He has a bass section of two tubas and one helicon or clarinet, two side drums, two trombones and four cornets, besides the other instruments necessary. He expects to have the best band in this section of the state in another year.

PADUCAH HAS BIG RATS THAT BOTHER WORKMEN

Mr. Robert McCune, the sign writer and carriage painter, believes he has discovered the biggest species of rats in existence. He has had several "jobs" of carriage painting ruined by them and did not until a short time ago discover what the "vermin" was. When he coated a buggy late in the afternoon and returned the next morning he found the prints of large paws on the paint. At first he thought them made by a cat, but putting out a trap he caught a rat as large as a half grown kitten. The rats crawled up on the bodies of the buggies to eat the axle grease, wheels being removed from vehicles when undergoing painting.

OPEN LEE SCHOOL MONDAY MORNING

No More Danger of Smallpox Epidemic, and Three Hundred People
Have Been Vaccinated in Nine
Squares on South Side.

BUT THREE CASES DEVELOPED.

Vaccination by the wholesale in the district affected by the pupils of the Lee school, has been accomplished this week. Dr. B. T. Hall working under instructions from Dr. W. T. Graves, health officer, has vaccinated persons in nine squares. In this territory he has vaccinated 110 school children and altogether, 300 persons. Anybody that possibly might have been exposed to the smallpox cases, were vaccinated if their old scars were not satisfactory. He will finish his work today. Health Officer Graves now thinks that the Lee school may be safely opened next Monday week. Only three cases of smallpox have been found so far, due to the energetic action in closing the schools and other preventive measures.

Off For Vacation Trip.

Mr. Philo Alcott left last night for Detroit, Mich., where he will be joined by Mr. Blanton Allen on a trip to Canada, New York City, and the Jamestown exposition. Mr. Allen, who has been living in Detroit for six weeks, will return with him, and accept a position in the office of the Sutherland Medicine company.

Odd Fellows To Smithland.

Tonight if the weather permits a big delegation of Odd Fellows from Paducah will go up to Smithland to attend the initiation of a class of 21. Only recently a lodge of 26 members was instituted at Smithland.

Fire Loss Adjusted.

Mr. Guy Nance, the undertaker, has settled his loss in the fire which damaged his undertaking parlors and the Garner Bros. furniture store. He carried $3,000 insurance and settled for $1,200. His household goods more than his fixtures were damaged.

trict, Given Chance.

His attorneys Hendrick, Miller and Marble, have been busy in his behalf since his conviction at the April term and sentenced to two years' imprisonment. Considerable sympathy was expressed for the misguided boy, and a petition was circulated and signed here. His mother is a widow woman. His attorneys received a telegram, announcing his release today. The attorneys secured a suspension of sentence for 60 days to lay the matter before the governor, and Anderson has been in Paducah awaiting executive action.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

Two Boys In Jail Charged With Cutting Drunk Man.

Will Hamilton and Will Alexander, alias Coots Eggleson, are in jail charged with assault and battery. It is claimed that they cut Mack McKinney, a mill laborer, in a lumber yard on South Third street last night while he was drunk. McKinney was found last night in a serious condition and brought to the city hall where the injury was dressed. Patrolman James Clark went to work on the case and succeeded in getting evidence he feels sure will convict the two.

HAS NOT YET BEEN FOUND.

Rivermen are still speculating over the disappearance from the tow-bent Henrietta of Miss Robbie Woodruff, stewardess of the boat. The Henrietta lost a fuel flat near the Tennessee river bridge Wednesday and later missed the young woman. If she fell overboard her body has not been found and it is thought the boat was not near enough the bank to allow her to leave it.

Thomas Hillyard.

Mr. Thomas Hillyard, 76 years old, died at his residence in Tyler yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock of general debility after a lingering illness. He came here several years ago from Livingston county and was well known in Tyler and Mechnessburg. He served in the civil war with the Union army and leaves a wife and three children. The body was taken to Livingston county for burial.

Harmeling, the tailor, bid $1,750 for the stock as a whole, but the commissioner thought by selling separately, stock and fixtures, he could get a better price.

THEATRICAL NOTES

KENTUCKY THEATRE.
Monday, Etienne Girardot in "Charley's Aunt."

"Charley's Aunt." The phenomenal success of the revival of "Charley's Aunt" in New York last spring was due in no little measure to the artistic work of Etienne Girardot, and the clever supporting company engaged by Manager North, and all the metropolitan critics agreed that it was played and generally represented even better than during its original run in Gotham. Mr. Girardot may be said to be even a better comedian than ever, for no artist with his natural aptitudes for comedy could impersonate a variety of characters, as he has done since first seen in "Charley's Aunt," without a broadening of his artistic view and a refinement of his comic method. His impersonation of the bogus aunt is one of the most execrably amusing things seen in the theater in years. He has a keen sense of humor and knowledge of just how far he must go to make a point "Charley's Aunt" is a delightful exemplar of innocent diversion, and its originality and ingenuity add to the amusing character of the entertainment. Arrangements have been made to present Mr. Girardot in "Charley's Aunt" at The Kentucky.

Courteous has been curtailed to "curt" in cosmopolitan Chicago.

TRAVELING MAN MAKES BIG HIT

Principals and Chorus Share
Honors of Production

Mr. Boyle Woolfolk's Work As Writer of Musical Comedy and Director Indorsed.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

"Perhaps, the best amateur performance we ever witnessed," was the verdict of the audience last night, after they had satisfied themselves by making a curtain call on the final tableau of "The Traveling Man" at the Kentucky theater. Beginning with Mr. Boyle Woolfolk, author of the piece, whose patient, well-directed work was apparent in its smoothness of action and the perfect movement of the chorus, one does not know whether to congratulate him most on the excellent judgment he exercised in selecting his caste, or the fine talent he secured for the production.

"The Traveling Man" is about the best vehicle for exploiting home talent on the stage one could imagine. It moves rapidly, and has plenty of tuneful music, frequent chorus changes and a variety of characters. Certainly no traveling organization would fail to advertise as graceful and beautiful a chorus of girls and handsome men as "The Traveling Man" presented in Paducah; nor could one of ordinary pretensions be expected to present a group of singers equal to Miss Anno Bradshaw, Miss Mayme Dryfuss, Mrs. David Flournoy, Miss Nella Hatfield and Messrs. Richard Scott, Emmet Bagby and Evert Thompson.

Mr. Woolfolk in the principal role of "Jim Dandy" did not monopolize the stage, and each of the principals had an opportunity to make a distinct hit, which every one did, while the "Pony Ballet," members of the "Daisy Shine Opera company," composed of Misses Lucette Soule, Elsie Hodge, Claire St. John, Julia Dabney, Sadie Smith, Gladys Coburn, Martha Cope and Helen Van Meter, was the life of the performance.

Giving volume to the music and presenting a series of entrancing and well executed pictures, the following young ladies and gentlemen appeared as members of the "Upper Ten" and "Village Belles and Beaux" of Wildwood Texas:

Misses Frances Wallace, Blanche Ellis, Marjorie Loving, Elizabeth Seebree, Katherine Powell, Jeanette Potter, Brooks Smith, Ruth Jaynann, Mary Gregory, Alice Cabell, Kathleen Whitefield, Estelle Hale, Lily Johnson, Anne Williamson, Elizabeth Williamson, Emma Neihaus, Mamie O'Brien and Nellie Willis; Messrs. Frank Davis, Zack Hayes, Monte Lack, Sam Hughes, Jack Elliott, George Rawleigh, Marshall Jones, George Wallace S. E. Clay, G. A. Salvo, Milton Wallerstein, Ed Cave, Salem Cope, Phillip Sweltzer, James Langstaff, Felix St. John, Harry Singleton and Henry Henneberger.

Mrs. David Flournoy as "Belle Claire" played opposite to Mr. Woolfolk, giving an air of reality to the flimsy plot, and sang two numbers, leading in the closing chorus and tableaux "Miss Liberty."

Miss Nella Hatfield, whose dramatic talent has been tested in a number of difficult amateur roles, never appeared to better advantage than last night as "Dolly Snow," especially when she sang the catchy song: "Saharn Sarah," at the close of the second act.

Miss Myrme Dryfuss, as "Daisy Shine," exhibited a clear conception of her part as prima donna of an opera company, and made a hit with the march song: "When Miss Hortense Comes Up the Street."

Miss Anno Bradshaw sang "Dixie Daisies" as finale to act I. It is one of the sweetest numbers in "The Traveling Man" and curtain calls were repeated on the act.

Richard Scott, as "Archie York"; Emmet Bagby, as "Hart Ware"; William Brazelton, as "Marcus Pearl"; and Evert Thompson, as "Bill Durham," were a quartet of drummers, of different types that could make a laugh on any stage. Each had a song hit in his grip and had no trouble in disposing of a "nice order" of good humor last night. Evert Thompson was presented with a beautiful "ho-kay" with lemon attachments, one of which he gracefully presented to his tormentor.

Douglas Bagby as "Danny Doolittle" the sleepy hotel clerk; William Reddick, as "Bobby Buttons," the ambitious hell boy; and Charles Cox, as "Ben Crimp," manager of the "Daisy Shine Opera company," made distinct hits, while the following hell boys make the first act attractive: Frank Buckner, Edwin Lightfoot, Henry Leake, Fowler Post.

David Voller, Jr., as Restus Cole, the colored porter, who realized that "Dis am no place for me," grew breathless trying to satisfy the demands of his audience for "I'm Hunting a Home on Easy Street." In this he was aided by the "Pony Ballet" in polka dot costumes, and the number "went big" on its merits.

One of the novel hits last night was little Miss Susan Porter Sleeth, as the "Kandy Kid," whose appearance was made from a box of "Huyler's" after which she danced through an intricate step.

Flowers were in abundance for all the lady principals last night.

The receipts were $576 and the profits are to go to the Humane Society and Charity club.

There was a popular price matinee this afternoon.

Box Parties. All the boxes were occupied last evening and added an especial charm to the spirit and brilliancy of the occasion. In the Gregory-Husbands' box were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris.

Messrs. Edward Bringham and David Koger were the hosts of a party that included: Mr. and Mrs. Bringham, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Hlythe, Dr. I. B. Howell and Mrs. Mario Burton, of Colorado Springs; Mr. Koger and Miss Ethel Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman had for their guests: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wallace.

Mr. Stewart Slinnot and Miss Marjorie Scott, Mr. Vaughan Scott and Miss Mary Bolling, Mr. Fred Wade and Miss Belle Cave occupied the fourth box.

Several after-theater suppers were given at the Palmer House cafe. Mr. Boyle Woolfolk, the talented young author and composer of "The Traveling Man" and his sister, Mrs. Besie W. Peters, of Danville, Ky., were the guests of honor at the supper party of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedman.

Mrs. Peters is a charming musician herself, and played the piano accompaniments for "The Traveling Man" performance here.

Women Inclined to Constipation

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are prone to constipation, and many of their other ills are due to this condition in the bowels which fills the blood with impure matter that permeates the entire system. In most cases foul breath, bad complexion, sick headache and such like ills are primarily caused by constipation or indigestion.

Women should be happy to learn of a remedy that cures constipation and indigestion, and that has such other ingredients as purify the blood and tone up all the digestive organs. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store for 50 cents or a bottle. Women have been using themselves with this remedy for many years, and the effect of years ago still stands today, that you buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with the understanding that it will do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

This great herb laxative compound is especially suited to the delicate system of women because of its gentle but prompt action. It is pleasant to take and free from griping. It does not weaken like purgatives and cathartics, but builds up and strengthens. It is a permanent cure and should be as steady in your home as in that of thousands of others. Women use it themselves and give it to children in preference to any other laxative because it is guaranteed to do what a good laxative should do, and does it gently. Mrs. Tracy, of 88 N. Laren Ave., St. Louis, Mo., is glad to say that it cured her constipation and stomach trouble and recommends it to American womanhood. She is but one of thousands who are loud in praise of it. You who have never used it should begin today. You will date your freedom from sickness to the day that you start the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Your druggist will sell you a bottle under our absolute guarantee.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying, can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Get the most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." ### NOT UP TO CONTRACT.

We expect to see things growing in the spring.
We expect to find flowers howling in the spring.
We expect to see good weather, Lambs playing on the heather, And a lot of joys together.
In the spring.

We are somewhat disappointed in the spring.
Something must have come unjoined.

With the spring.
May to warai up is refusing.
Nature is not much enthusing.
And our confidence were losing in the spring.

A Charming Spring Function.
A beautiful reception of the week was given at the Koger home on North Seventh street, where Mrs. James Koger and her daughter, Mrs. Verona Blythe, received their friends from 1 until 6 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. It was an especially charming spring-time function and the only flowers used were the delightful ones "that bloom in the spring" out doors. The handsome rooms were bowers of Spring, garden plants, narcissus and mock-orange effectively arranged with smilax. The color motif of white and pink was artistically emphasized with these flowers. Standing with Mrs. Koger in the reception rooms were four brides of the season: Mrs. Verona Blythe, Mrs. Edson Hart, Mrs. Edward Bringham and Mrs. Henry Rudy. These looked especially charming in their beautiful wedding gowns, and added to the charm of the scene. Others in the receiving line were: Mesdames Mildred Davis, W. A. Gardner, Ben Wellie, Robert Reeves, Victor Vora, J. R. Henry, Elsie Luek, John Scott, Allen Ashcraft, Clarence Sherrill, Robert Phillips, Harris Rankin, Misses Elizabeth Stunott, Corlie Grundy, Mat-

(to Lou McGlathery, Kathleen Whitefield.

In the library where punch was served at an artistically decorated table, Miss Anna Webb presided, assisted by Misses Marjorie Scott and Frances Wallace.

The dining room was a pretty arrangement of the pinks and narcissus forming an effective plaid and white center piece for the handsome table. Receiving the guests here were: Misses Blanche IIIIs, Ethel Brooks, Frances Terrell, Sue Thompson, Belle Cave.

The reception toilettes of the receiving party were noticeably handsome and many pretty spring costumes were in evidence among the guests.

The Liebling Recital Will Be a Musical Event.

The coming of Emil Liebling, the distinguished pianist of Chicago, to Paducah in piano recital on June 1, at the Kentucky theater, is a musical event of more than noticeable interest. The Crescendo club in bringing Mr. Liebling to the city has shown a faith in her appreciation of the best that should be met more than half way. Mr. Liebling's fame hardly needs any comment but still anything in regard to one whom we shall so soon see, is always of interest. Of his recital in Washington, D. C., the papers there say:

"Metzerott Hall was filled by an audience conspicuous for its culture last Saturday night, the occasion being an invitation concert by Emil Liebling, of Chicago. The first impression produced by Mr. Liebling's playing is that of vigor and virility. Not that he is deficient in delicacy, as was proven later, but there is a decision about everything he does that is distinctive. The next noticeable feature was his choice of compositions. He came not to Washington to present a new interpretation of the old masters, and instead of wrestling with their magnificent but much abused works, as every visiting foreign artist feels bound to do, he presented a program admirable in every way from a musical standpoint, while at the same time presenting those qualities of novelty and variety so pleasing to the popular audience. As a result he was enabled to present a comprehensive program of ten numbers without tiring his hearers, and sent them away really wishing for more. The 'Gavotte Moderée', on 11 with which Mr. Liebling opened his third part, is an index to the character of his genius, both as a pianist and composer. It is bright and 'saucy' in spirit, but musically in method; a combination of Teutonic technique with American vivacity. As interpreted by the composer it was one of the most attractive numbers on the program, and won a deserved encore."

The "Gavotte Moderée", which is said to be "an exquisite yet thoroughly vigorous expression of musical thought", will be one of Mr. Liebling's program numbers at the recital here.

A delightful meeting of the Matinee Musical club was held on Wednesday afternoon at the parish house of Grace Episcopal church. The program was under the direction of Mrs. David Flournoy and Miss Jennie Gilson. It was a Liza Lehman and E. A. McDowell afternoon. The biographical sketches of the composers were:

ADVICE TO RHEUMATICS.

Noted Physician Tells How to Prevent and Cure Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

(By George Edmund Flood, M. D.) If you would avoid Rheumatism and Kidney and Bladder Troubles moderate in the consumption of heavy, rich foods, substitute as far as possible soups, broths, fresh milk, and drink water—lots of water. Take plenty of time to eat, and don't eat after you have had enough, even if it does taste good. If your work is confining take a moderate amount of exercise each day in the open air.

Of course, neither diet, water, rest, nor exercise will cure these afflictions. I advise them as preventives only. For the benefit of the readers of this article who are now afflicted with Rheumatism, Kidney, Bladder or Urinary trouble, and desire to be cured quickly, I give below, complete in every detail, the famous prescription which has made me so successful in the treatment of these diseases. It is the most certain cure for these diseases that I have ever used. It is pleasant to take, it is not expensive, it can be filled by any druggist, and I believe it is the greatest prescription for Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble ever written. It is also a valuable spring tonic and blood purifier. If you are a sufferer, give this, take it to your druggist and have it filled, or get the ingredients and mix them at home. Fluid Extract Castor Aromatic, 1/2 ounce; Concentrated Bark/Cinnamon Compound, 1 ounce; Fluid Extract Prickly Ash Bark, 1/2 drachm; Aromatic Elixir, 4 ounces. Adult dose, take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime; children one-fourth to one-half teaspoonful after meals.

After you are cured follow the advice I have given you in regard to diet, exercise and water, and you will not need the services of a physician again for these ailments.

God never gave a man an ambition he could not achieve.

THE TENNESSEE.

St. Louis papers speak enthusiastically of the opening of the Tennessee river to all-the-year-round navigation calling attention to the great benefit to St. Louis houses, and, indeed, St. Louis' trade up the Tennessee is enormous. But Paducah, right at the mouth of the great stream, knows something of the benefits accruing as the trade develops. Already a permanent line between Paducah and Chattanooga is established, while the St. Louis packets ply between the lower river points, Chattanooga and Knoxville, over 100 miles further up, maintain continuous communication by water, so, with only a transfer at Chattanooga, Paducah goods may be sent to the very source of the tortuous mountain stream. Not only will trade develop as the river is opened for continuous navigation, but the passenger traffic is bound to increase as information, concerning the wonderful scenery along the river becomes wide spread. Not even the far famed Hudson can vie with the Tennessee scenically, as she cuts her way through the Cumberland ridge, cleaving the mountains as by a knife, the perpendicular cliffs rising 1,500 feet straight from the water's edge. Paducah lies at the gateway of a rich territory and on one of the main highways of the internal waterways' distributing system, and her citizens should be alive to the possibilities and aid rivermen in promoting government work on our streams.

It is of little vital consequence who swore out the second warrant, or whether the first was defective, or whether Mayor Yelzer did drive the police court authorities into doing their duty, or whether the court erred on a point of law. It really matters little to anybody except Mr. W. M. Mitchell and his bondsmen, whether he was violating the law on that Sabbath day, when two policemen saw him carrying a basket of beer from his saloon to a nearby house. The lesson in the sensational proceedings, attending his trial in police court, is not so much for dilatory officials, as for the saloonkeepers. Whenever anybody is seen in a saloon after hours or on Sunday the suspicion is created that the saloon in question is violating the law, and that suspicion will not down. It may be the proprietor is in there for some honest purpose. He may, in fact, have kindly kept beer on ice for some Saturday customer; but for his own sake, the saloonkeeper had better make arrangements to stay away from his place of business from Saturday night until Monday morning; or, when he enters, if necessary, he should throw open the doors and windows to public view, and not allow his generous impulses to induce indiscreet conduct. It is such small matters that sometimes have weighty consequences.

There are excellent reasons advanced by Magistrate Emery and County Judge Lightfoot for constructing the county jail under the court house, not the least of which is the saving in expense; but there is always the matter of sanitation and hygiene to be considered. Ventilation usually is poor in under ground rooms and the installation of artificial ventilating apparatus, seldom works satisfactorily by reason of the draft necessitated. It is hardly consonant with our modern ideas of corrective punishment to jeopardize the health of prisoners, and reduce their moral and mental stamina by reducing their physical vigor. If the objections naturally occurring to one against the plan proposed can be overcome, there is merit in the project. Otherwise, we should say that any apparent saving in the original cost would be more than counterbalanced in the long run.

Villified and charged with everything bordering on fraud, because they insisted on purchasing an electric lighting outfit at a cost of $7,000 below that, which a certain member of the board of public works wished to saddle on the city, members of the late general council find themselves justified by the report of Superintendent Keebler, showing that since the installation of the new apparatus the city is maintaining 202 arc lamps at an average cost of $13.33 per light, as compared with $22.82 per light with the old equipment, or a saving of nearly $2,000 on the year at the present rate. These were honest public servants.

Judging from the report of the extravagances indulged in by the London county council in fitting up the almshouses the ambition of every English country boy may consistently be to go to London when he grows up and be a pauper.

Insurrectionists in the Philippines, Cuba and Ohio have succumbed to the blunders of the genial secretary of war. The Taft smile may become as famous as that less graceful one of Mr. Roosevelt's, as popular among cartoonists.

Suns and stripes and the Rising Sun floated over the Taft-Kureki banquet last night, and the moon peeped in the window.

IMMINENT PERIL
BY BROKEN RAFT

until rescued. Seeing that to remain tied to the raft meant certain disaster, the Witzers in their boat shouldered the men in the skiff to cut the rope. This they could not do. In his nervousness, C. B. Witzer, who previously had stepped the engine, started it again. The sudden start broke the cable and they were free.

Brigmeier in Danger.

Brigmeier alone was in danger and he was saved. With the Witzers, he returned to Paducah last night. The gasoline boat was crushed slightly in the head. Speaking in his broken English, Brigmeier said this morning: "I have been all over the world in the biggest ships. I have been near death many times and have seen death overtake many companions, but never was I so near death as I was while hanging on those logs yesterday. Before I knew what had happened I was hanging across the ends of the logs away up in the air, looking down into the river and expecting to go down as suddenly as I came up. It must have been only a few minutes, but it seemed hours to me while I was hanging there."

C. B. Witzer telling his experience said: "We are familiar with the river but not with rafts. We didn't like the job, but they said not a boat could be gotten. So when the raft struck the piling we hardly knew which way to turn, though in its suddenness, little room was left for action. I confidently believe both of us would be dead this morning, if I hadn't started that engine through mistake, thus breaking the rope that held us to the raft."

The rafts were being taken down the Ohio river to O. H. Margrave at Brookport.

ALFRED D. SHAW

WILL SING AT THE MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL MAY 20.

Plans for Woman's Club Enterprise Promise Artistic Triumph This Year.

Mr. Alfred D. Shaw, the well known English tenor, has been secured for the coming festival. There will necessarily be great curiosity to hear this much talked of singer, who has already appeared in most of the principal American festivals with marked success. Mr. Shaw has been especially engaged to appear in The Messiah and Rossini's Stabat Mater in the annual Messiah festival throughout Holy week at Ludsborg, Kan. Following this he returns east for a round of oratorio appearances beginning with the Worcester festival in June. Mr. Shaw's engagement here is sure to add largely to the interest in our own forthcoming festival, singing in association with the other splendidly endowed artists already announced. Headed by Innes' sixty players and the locally trained festival choruses, there seems every reason to predict for the coming celebration not only a great financial success for the Woman's club, but also such an artistic triumph as will advance the cause of music in this city beyond comparison with any effort in the past. The festival is set for May 24, at Wallace park, and tickets are being disposed of rapidly by the ladies of the Woman's club.

'TIS COLD WEATHER TO TALK ABOUT STRAW HATS BUT BY ALL THE LAWS THAT GOVERN SUCH THINGS THIS IS STRAW HAT SEASON, OR SHOULD BE.

So the New Store blazing the way, calls your attention to its window display of hats that will be worn when Summer does come. Note the window in passing and get a line on the wonderfully attractive styles in straw hats that will be worn this season.

The Yacht styles, the soft straws that can be draped into the graceful, natty styles now so popular in soft hats, are distinctive features of the display.

But there is every style you can fancy. Notice them in passing, or drop in and let us show them to you.

WITH FRANCE

ENGLAND IS ONCE MORE CO-OPERATING AS OF YORE.

Latest Turn in European Diplomatic Situation As Seen By Observers at Paris.

Paris, May 11.—Once more England and France, working together in the diplomatic field, have added to the isolation of Germany.

The new Franco-Japanese treaty is officially confirmed. It is regarded as due largely to the influence of King Edward.

Great Britain and Russia already have approved the general lines of the treaty.

Thus France, England, Russia and Japan have reached an understanding over their respective interests in the far east, while Germany is practically ignored.

Means Peace in Far East.

The fact that Russia has assented to the treaty between France and Japan is significant. It means that Russia and Japan have no further quarrel over Manchuria. England's adherence with Russia means that they will not clash in the Yangtze valley. France will be undisturbed in Siam and Indo-China, and Japan will have a free hand in Korea.

At the same time, it is explained, the entente will be strictly limited to the maintenance of the status quo. It does not touch China and has not anything resembling an offensive or defensive feature.

Anglo-Russian Treaty Due.

Nevertheless, taken in connection with the Russo-Japanese understanding which shortly will be concluded and the Anglo-Russian agreement both of which are supplementary to Anglo-Japanese and Franco-Russian alliances and the Anglo-French, the entente creates a combination in the far east and a new grouping of the powers in Europe of extreme significance. It constitutes, as stated, another signal evidence of the success of Great Britain's diplomatic maneuvering for the isolation of Germany.

United States Approves.

It is understood that the United States approved in advance of the aim of the negotiations between France and Japan, and found no objection thereto.

Foreign Minister Pichon said today:

"The purpose of the entente is to secure additional guarantees for the maintenance of peace in the far east, being simply a logical continuation of France's policy of concluding arrangements designed to prevent complications wherever France has special interest."

"Senator, how are the people standing by you in your campaign?" "First rate," replied Senator Badger, as he took a chew of finecut. "I've sold my crops two years ahead, mortgaged my home, and made a loan of $10,000. I guess that ought to keep them by me, hadn't it?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

ARE YOU HALF SICK?

A Great Number of People Are, At This Season of the Year.

Weather conditions not alone affect business they affect the health of the average person. Take a long sleigh of inclement weather like we are having and you find a host of half sick people.

Spring days are the days of half sick people—people just sick enough to have little interest in anything but, not ill enough to go to bed. Such a condition calls for attention immediately, or serious results may follow. The liver, stomach, bowels, kidney or blood may not be performing their function properly, just a trifle in disorder, and once corrected you are yourself again.

Osteopathy goes right to the seat of any disorders of this nature, and cures them.

Osteopathy is the one natural treatment in all conditions of stomach, liver, bowel, kidney, skin and blood disorders. Without the use of any medicines with proper diet, with the dry hot air treatment, where indicated the osteopathic treatment is an assured and permanent cure.

I should like to talk to you at any time about the treatment for yourself, or any member of your family, and the best testimonials I can offer you of the treatment are the commendations of Paducah people whom you know well, who have taken the treatment.

Especially is Osteopathy a rational treatment of ailments peculiar to children.

Phone me at 1407, or call at my office, upstairs 516 Broadway, and I shall be pleased to consult with you.

An Ideal All-Around Newspaper.

Probably no other newspaper in the United States can show so brilliant an array of special features suited to the tastes and needs of every member of the family as the Chicago Record-Herald. Its regular daily and Sunday features include the letters of William E. Curtis and Walter Wellman, besides the special dispatches from the great centers. Next in importance comes the Record-Herald's unparalleled foreign news service, embracing its own special cables and those of the New York Herald, World, Journal of Commerce and Associated Press. Its pages devoted to commercial and financial news of all kinds are unsurpassed in scope and accuracy. Among other noteworthy features are its popular sporting page, its sound editorials, Klier's humorous "Alternating Currents," the lively "Stories of the Street and Town," the railroad and insurance columns, music and drama, society and clubs, daily reviews of the latest books, the continued story, the "Woman Beautiful" department, the daily fashion article, "Meals for a Day," news of the lakes, etc., besides a complete array of local and domestic news—all uniting to give the people of Chicago and the northwest a complete and interesting all-around newspaper.

The Sunday Magazine of the Record-Herald is an artistic and literary triumph. Famous authors and illustrators, fine paper and presswork, combine to make it the rival of the great independent periodicals and a distinct departure in Sunday journalism.

His failings leaned to virtue's side. —Goldenlith.

BOULDER ON TRACK

BLOCKS WAY FOR FULTON-LOUISVILLE ACCOMMODATION.

Weights 100 Tons, But Engineer Sees and Stops Train in Time.

With supports made frail by recent rains, a boulder estimated to weigh fully 100 tons was dislodged by a passing Illinois Central train yesterday morning a short distance west of Kuttawa, and crashed down the side of a cut settling in the middle of the railroad tracks. Shortly after the Fulton-Louisville accommodation passenger train whirled around the curve, but the engineer saw the obstruction in time to prevent striking it.

Contractor F. W. Katterjohn, the stone quarry man, was aboard the train and after examining the rock, estimated its weight at 320,000 pounds. It required much time and labor for the wrecking crew to remove the rock, and the accommodation passenger train was delayed.

DUN'S REPORT.

New York, May 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade Monday will say:

Weather conditions, unseasonable almost beyond precedent, have retarded retail trade and agriculture to an extent that cannot yet be measured, but the loss will be considerable. Spring opened with the brightest prospects for business and crops, but record breaking results can no longer be attained. May thus far has brought complaints of excessive cold from almost every section of the country, and in many cases it is found that merchants' collections have been slow on that account.

Freight congestion is relieved, however, and traffic is very heavy, partly in preparation for fall and winter business, which is viewed with confidence, while last year's pressure caused a big movement of coal and attractive prices bring a vast tonnage of wheat to primary markets.

The outlook in the iron and steel industry was never brighter. Steel rails are constantly ordered, much new business being in light rails for trolley lines, and makers of agricultural implements are purchasing here freely.

Textile mills are still actively engaged, as a rule, but in the primary markets there is some irregularity. Cotton goods are no cheaper, but the effect of the backward season on retail trade is felt in all departments. Business at first hands is more active on forward contracts than for quick delivery, and there is less offering of premiums for spot goods. Yet the mills are not offering concessions, which may be due in part to the high cost of raw cotton. The only interest of the jobbing trade is in fall goods, current needs having been supplied. Export trade continues featureless, the only sales being small parcels for the Red Sea. As to woollens, men's wear orders appear less freely, and the slow movement is also attributed to the weather, retail clothiers making little preparation for another season when current distribution is so slow.

While the footwear market cannot be termed active, there is a steady volume of business that keeps New England producers fairly well engaged. Prices are generally firm.

Leather is steady and quiet, decreased production having strengthened the position of tanners. Domestic hides advanced with the seasonal improvement in quality.

Weather reports have dominated commodity exchanges, the net result being a further rise in prices. Domestic statements of injury by insects and cold were supplemented by poor progress in many other nations, and the export demand was maintained in the face of discouraging prices.

COST OF A COUNTY JAIL UNDER THE COURT HOUSE

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot and Magistrate C. W. Emery have been busy figuring on the cost of a jail if built under the court house. The jail would cost about $17,000 and could be paid for in two years without an additional tax levy.

"For $12,000 we can have the cellar prepared for the installation of cells," said Magistrate Emery. "For $7,000 we can easily install cells. The wreckage from the old jail will bring $3,000. Repairs on the old jail are costing us an amount equal to 5 per cent on $50,000 per year."

"The money can be borrowed at 5 per cent and paid out of next year's tax funds and the year following, and will not necessitate an increase of the tax levy."

The proposed new jail would accommodate 138 prisoners—in single cells. The old jail accommodates about 40 in double cells.

S.S.S. PURELY S.S.S. VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by everyone. Young or old, those in robust health, or those whose systems are delicate and run-down, may use it with the same good results, and equally without fear of any unpleasant or injurious after effects. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels, and so deranging the system otherwise, that even if the original disease had been removed from the system it is left in such a weakened and deranged condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. It is made entirely of the healing, cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks gathered directly from the forests and fields of nature, under our own supervision, and when they reach our laboratory contain all their original valuable tonic and blood purifying properties. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. Being made entirely from these vegetable ingredients S. S. S. is absolutely harmless to the system, and while curing disease adds health and strength to every part of the body. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles by removing the cause and supplying the circulation with health-giving and strength-producing qualities.

Deerly Paid for Advice.

A man with a mania for answering advertisements had had some interesting experiences. He learned that by sending $1 to a Yankee he could get a cure for drinkards. And he did. It was to "take the pledge and keep it."

Then he sent 50 cents to find out how to raise turkeys successfully. He found out: "Just take hold of the tops and lift."

Being young he wished to marry and sent thirty-four 1-cent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. When the answer came it read: "Sit down on a pan of dough."

Next advertisement he answered read: "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills, fold them, and thus double his money.

Next he sent for twelve useful household articles and got a package of needles.

He was slow to learn so he sent $1 to find out "how to get rich." "Work hard and never spend a cent." That stopped him.

But his brother wrote to find out how to write without a pen and ink. He was told to use a lead pencil.

He paid $1 to learn how to live without work, and was told on a postal card: "Fish for easy marks as we do."—From the Hardware Reporter.

The utilization of herring for a fertilizer has been stopped by the Canadian government.

A BOLD STEP.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. And thus too he has absolutely and completely removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

They are now in a class all by themselves—being absolutely and in every sense Non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

So many false formulas and malicious statements concerning his medicines had been published through the cowardice of jealous competitors and disgruntled doctors, that Dr. Pierce determined to completely disarm his assailants by a full and frank statement of their exact composition, verifying the same under oath as complete and correct. This he has done and to the complete discomfiture of those who had assailed his good name as well as the well-earned reputation of his world-famed medicines.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this booklet it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their women. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, and with the use of specially designed chemical apparatus, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health.

It should have a medical book handy. They should know about anatomy and physiology. They should have a book that tells of the anatomical and physiological processes as well as how and when to advise son and daughter. Has unequalled endorsement of the press, ministry, legal and medical professions. A standard work is the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound book, or 21 stamps for the paper-covered volume. Address Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NO APPLICATION

NEED BE MADE BY ANY TEACHER FOR HER POSITION.

Board Will Consider Members of Present Corps Applicants Unless Notified.

At the final meeting of city school teachers at Washington school yesterday afternoon they were notified that one of the trustees said it would be unnecessary to make formal application for their positions next year, as all teachers will be considered applicants for re-election unless the board is notified that they do not desire to remain in the service. Each principal was requested to ascertain if any instructor desires not to teach next year and to report in advance of the election. Recently application blanks were ordered printed, and teachers were given to understand that all would have to make formal application.

Superintendent of Buildings Fred Hoyer has been instructed to make a pattern of a pocket running the full length of the new seats ordered for the auditorium. The pockets provided in the new seats are not large enough for all books, and an extra expense of $50 will be incurred by the 250 new pockets, which will have to be made at the desk factory.

CALLS MRS. EDDY PLOT VICTIM.

World Declares New York Leader of Faith is Undermining Her.

New York, May 11.—The World says:

"Unthreading, knot by knot, and tangle by tangle, the amazing web of deception and intrigue which the relatives of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy now declare has been woven about her by two sets of plotters, ex-Senator William E. Chandler has made within the last few days discoveries which confirm his opinion that Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, leader of the Christian Science church in New York, is the real head of the alleged conspiracy and the power that moves Calvin A. Frye and others at Pleasant View in their manipulation of the mind and fortune of the head of the church.

"At a conference arranged with great secrecy in the Albany House, Hartford, and which lasted nearly all one night last week, Senator Chandler obtained affidavits and a complete recital of the amazing testimony of two witnesses who declare that even twenty years ago Mrs. Stetson, while professing to be Mrs. Eddy's most loyal follower and the 'Mother Chosen One,' was secretly undermining Mrs. Eddy, ridiculing her infirmities and sneering at her writings, while proclaiming herself to be the superior teacher of the Christian Science faith.

A MAKER OF HISTORY

CHAPTER XXVII.

"At the sport, my young friend," Henri lauraured from the depths of his basket chair. "I yield you without question supremacy. Your rule games, trials mostly of brute strength, do not interest me. Your horsemanship I must confess that I envy, and I fear that you are a better shot. But two things remain to me."

"Only two?" Guy murmured. "What unexamined modesty."

"I can drive a racing automobile at eighty miles an hour, and with the foils I can play with you."

"I give you the first," Guy answered, "but I'm beginning to fancy myself a bit with the sticks. Let's have a bout."

"My dear Guy," Henri exclaimed, "forgive me, but what a crude suggestion. The first breeze of the day is just coming up from the lake. Close your eyes as I do. Can't you catch the perfume of the roses and the late blue? Exquisite. In half an hour you will see a new green in the woods there as the sun drops. This is silent joy. You would exchange it for vulgar movement."

"I don't see anything vulgar about fencing," Guy replied. "It's all right here of course, but I'm getting stiff, and I haven't the appetite of a kitten. I should like a good hour's bout, a swim afterward in the baths and a rub down. Come on, Henri! I'll make us as fit as possible."

Henri shivered a little. "My young friend," he murmured, "you move me to despair. How can an alliance between nations with such contrary ideals be possible? You would desert a beautiful scene like this to gain by vulgar exercise an appetite that you may eat. Can't you realize the crudeness of it? Yet I must remember that you are my guest," he added, striking the bell by his side.

"Antoine shall prepare my linen clothes, and I will give you a lesson. Antoine," he added, half turning to the manservant who stood by his elbow, "my black linen fencing clothes and shoes in the dressing room and have the floor in the fencing gallery sprinkled with sand."

The man bowed, and Henri slowly rose from his chair.

"Don't bother about it, you know, if you mind very much," Guy said. "Would you rather have a game of billiards or a swim in the lake?"

Henri thrust his arm through his friend's.

"By no means," he answered. "If we are to do anything at all, we will do the thing in which I excel. It feeds my vanity, which is good for me, for by disposition I am an overmodest."

But they were not destined to fence that night, for on their way across the hall the duke's own servant intercepted them.

"M. le Duc," he announced, "desires to speak with monsieur in the library."

Henri let go his friend's arm.

"I return to the terrace, mon ami," he said. "You can fetch me when my respected uncle has finished with you."

M. le Duc and M. Grisson were still together. Immediately the door was closed the former turned to Guy.

"Your luggage has been thoroughly searched," he announced, "by a trustworthy agent. The letter of credit is still there, but the paper of which you spoke is missing."

Guy looked a little incredulous. "I know it was there the evening I left the hotel," he answered. "It was fastened to my letter of credit by an elastic band. The man you sent must have unfastened it."

The duke shook his head. "That," he said, "is impossible. The paper has been abstracted."

"But who could have known about it?" Guy protested.

"M. Poynton," the duke said, "we think it well, M. Grisson and I, to take you a little further into our confidence. Has it occurred to you, I wonder, to appreciate the significance of what you saw on the railway in the forest of Bozen?"

"In a fright—not altogether," Guy answered.

"We assumed as much," the duke said. "What you did see was this: You saw a meeting between the German emperor and the czar of Russia. It was miraculously well arranged, and except those interested you were probably the only witnesses. According to the newspapers, they were never less than 400 miles apart, but on the day in question the emperor was reported to be confined to his room by a slight chill and the czar to be resting after a fatiguing journey. You understand that this meeting was meant to be kept a profound secret?"

Guy nodded.

"But why?" he asked. "Was there any special reason why they should not meet?"

"My young friend," the duke answered gravely, "this meeting of which you were the only witness might have altered the whole destiny of Europe. Try how you will, you cannot appreciate its far-reaching possibilities. I will endeavor to give you the bare outlines of the affair. Even you, I suppose, have observed or heard of the growing friendship between my country and yours, which has culminated in what is called the 'entente cordiale'."

"Yes, I know as much as that," Guy admitted.

"This movement," the duke said, "has been looked upon with growing distaste and disfavor in Russia. Russia is the traditional and inevitable enemy of your country. Russia had, I may go so far as to say, made up her mind for war with England very soon after her first reverses at the hands of Japan. I am telling you now what is a matter of common knowledge among diplomatists when I tell you that it was the attitude of my country—of France—which alone has stayed her hand."

"This is very interesting," Guy said. "even to me, who have never taken any interest in politics, but—"

"Wait! Russia, as I say, found us disposed to back her in any quarrel with England. She turned them, of course, to Germany. We became aware, through our secret service, that something was on foot between the two countries. With our utmost vigilance we were unable to obtain any particulars. It is you, M. Poynton, who have brought us the first information of a definite character."

Guy looked his amazement, but he said nothing.

"To you," the duke continued, "a secret meeting between these two monarchs may not seem at all an astonishing thing. To us it is of the gravest political importance. Some sort of an understanding was arrived at between them. What was it? That sheet of paper which was once in your possession might very possibly contain the clue. Now you can appreciate its importance to us."

"What an ass I was not to take more care of it," Guy muttered.

"There are other things to be considered," the duke continued. "For the last month every dockyard in Germany has been working night and day, and we have authentic information as to a huge mobilization scheme which is already on foot. We might have wondered against whom these preparations were intended but for you. As it is the English government has been fully apprised of everything. Your magnificent fleet, under the pretext of sealing the Baltic squadron safely on its way, has been gradually concentrated. From dispatches to the German ambassador which we have managed to intercept in England we know that it is intended to raise a 'census bill' during the presence of the squadron in British waters. Quite unexpectedly, as it was hoped, Germany was to manage herself on Russia's side and strike against England. We, Russia's nominal ally, have had no intimation of this whatever. We are apparently left to ourselves. Ignored. Our friendship with your country has destroyed Russia's friendship for us. She relies, no doubt, on our neutrality, and she makes terms, doubtless absurdly favorable ones, with our ancient enemy. In the eyes of the world France is to be made to appear ridiculous. The German empire is to be ruled from London, and the Emperor Wilhelm's known ambition is to be realized."

"It sounds," Guy admitted, "like a nightmare. I know you foreigners all think we English are a bit too cock sure, but we have our own honor, you know, about any attempt at invasion."

"I am afraid," the duke said, "that when it comes to throwing a million men at different points of your coast, protected by a superb navy, you might find yourselves unpleasantly surprised. But let that pass. Have I said enough to make you understand the importance of what you saw in the forest of Bozen? Good! Now I want you to understand this—in the interests of your country and mine it is most important that the fact of our knowledge of this meeting should be kept a profound secret."

"Yes," Guy said; "I understand that."

"Your presence there," the duke continued, "created a certain amount of suspicion. You were watched by Paris by German spies, and if they had had the least idea of how much you had seen your life would not have been worth five minutes' purchase. As it is, they are uneasy over your disappearance. There are at least a dozen men and women in Paris and England to-day who are searching for you. You are moderately safe here, but not altogether. I want to put them finally off the scent. I might, of course, put you into such confinement that detection would be impossible. I do not want to do that. You have rendered your own country and mine an immense service. I prefer to treat you as a gentleman and a man of honor and to take you, as I hope you will see that I have done, into our entire confidence."

"M. le Duc," Guy answered, "I can assure you that I appreciate all that you have said. I am willing to do exactly as you say."

"Tomorrow morning's papers," the duke said slowly, "will contain an account of the finding of your body in the Seine."

"My what?" Guy exclaimed.

"Your body. We are going to stink and drown you. Perhaps I should say we are going to discover you stabbed and drowned."

Guy half rose from his seat.

"I say," he began.

"I need not explain, of course," the duke continued, "that you will suffer by proxy. The whole affair has been carefully arranged by the commission of police. An account of your death since you arrived in Paris will be given, which I fear may not flatter you, but you must remember that it is necessary to put our German friends completely off the scent, and in a month's time or so you will reappear."

"And everything will be contrived," the duke continued, "so that you will reappear in the next few days."

"And what are you going to do with me really?" Guy asked.

"You will remain here. Half the servants of the household have been dismissed, and every one who is not absolutely trustworthy has been got rid of. We are in close consultation with your English cabinet, and the moment the time arrives for us to disclose our knowledge of these secrets you will be free to go where you please."

"Absolutely free?" Guy asked anxiously.

"Certainly," the duke answered. "The other little affair is canceled by your present services. In fact, as regards that, you need not give yourself another moment's anxiety."

A small telephone which stood upon the table rang sharply. The duke exchanged a few sentences and replaced the receiver. He turned to Guy.

"It is an affair of the tide," he said. "Your body was washed up this afternoon, six hours before time. It will be in the evening papers. Ah!"

The telephone rang again. This time it was M. Grisson who was required. He listened for a moment or two with inscrutable countenance; then he glanced at the clock and replied:

"The Russian ambassador," he said, "replacing the receiver. Desires an immediate interview with me on a matter of the utmost importance, and the Russian fleet has left the Baltic!"

AS STRANGE AS FICTION AS TRUES AS GOSPEL

He Wants the World To Know Proofs Not Wanting.

I write this letter for publication because I feel it my duty to society. For over fourteen years I was an invalid. I suffered so much I often prayed for death. I spent thousands of dollars in search of health, was treated by many prominent doctors and visited several watering places, but was growing worse all the time. Last summer I heard a great deal of Root Juice and I made it my business to investigate every reported cure. I was at last so well satisfied I bought one dozen bottles. I had suffered so long I felt I would not get any good out of a small amount and as I decided to give it a trial I determined to try it right. I do not yet know what my disease was as every doctor diagnosed my case different. I can only give the symptoms and they were numerous. My appetite was good at times and at other times I had no appetite. At times I would bleed so I could hardly button my vest, mucus would pour from my head down in my throat especially in the morning. My breath was always bad; I had a burning sensation in my stomach most of the time; my kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble; I would often have to get up fifteen or twenty times during the night; I was constipated at times and at other times my bowels were too loose; I nearly always had a dull heavy headache. After taking a half bottle of Root Juice I noticed improvement. I used six bottles before I stopped. All my friends in Marion know just how I was and I want the world to know how I am now. I eat well and sleep well; there is not an ache or pain in my body. What a glorious gift is health, and I am happy to say Root Juice gave me mine. A. J. Donovan, Marion, Ind. The Root Juice instructors at Alvey & List's drug store are fast proving to the sick of Paducah the wonderful merit of the great remedy that has created so much excitement throughout the country during the last year. The instructors will continue at Alvey & List's through all of next week. Those who suffer with stomach, liver, kidney or blood troubles should call on the instructors and investigate.

DEFICIT MENACE TO SCHOOL BOARD

Figuring on Expensive Program for Summer

Will Spend More Than $25,000 on New Building Without Considering Other Work.

ESTIMATE OF EXPENDITURES.

Somewhere in the no distant future, certain school trustees see a deficit lying in wait for the school budget, and while their colleagues, flushed with the sight of $25,000 real dollars to spend, are thinking of ways to spend it, they are considering means of retrenching against the impending time of want. Already the school board is figuring on spending something like $36,000 for the $25,000 realized from the sale of the Longfellow building, and there are indications that the running expenses will run about $5,000 beyond the budget. Seats, purchased last fall, which have never been installed in the High school, cost $900, and supplies are costing this board like the mischief.

What is to become of the $25,000 realized from the sale of the Longfellow building is shown in a degree by the following estimates:

Site Twelfth and Jackson streets, $4,635.

Notes and interest, Rowlandtown site, $2,200.

Eight room building, Twelfth and Jackson streets, $17,000.

Plumbing, $1,000.

Four rooms in Rowlandtown, $8,000.

Completing McKinley building, three rooms, $1,350.

Furnishing them, $400.

Extending plumbing, $1,500.

Extending heating, $300.

Three flights of stairs, $150.

Total, $36,035.

The McKinley school has an average of 32 to the room, while other buildings have an average of 39 and 40. The new school at Twelfth and Jackson streets, will relieve the Franklin building. The new eight-room building, taking the place of the six room Longfellow building, and the four room building in Rowlandtown will add six rooms to the capacity of the city schools, as much, it is believed, as will be required.

The school board is about to borrow $7,000 for maintaining the schools, and it looks as though some of the extra work besides that on the new buildings will be postponed.

PRESIDENT DEFINES POSITION.

Congratulates Labor World Editor on View of Idaho Case.

Pittsburg, May 10.—John D. Pringle, editor of the Labor World of Pittsburg, last week published an editorial dealing with the Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone controversy. Several days ago he inclosed it in a letter and sent it to President Roosevelt.

Today Mr. Pringle received the following:

"The White House, Washington, May 10, 1907. My Dear Mr. Pringle:—Nothing that has been spoken or written, that I have seen, of the Moyer and Haywood controversy has pleased me as much as your letter and editorial. In my letter I wished to drive a wedge in between the honest, law-abiding man—with whom I feel such hearty sympathy—and those worst foes of the movement who preach anarchy and lawless violence."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

EX-GOV. E. G. ROSS DEAD; SAVED ANDREW JOHNSON

Albuquerque, N. M., May 10.—Edmund G. Ross, ex-governor of New Mexico and former United States senator from Kansas, second victim of the "fatal lane succession," whose vote in the United States senate prevented the impeachment of President Johnson, and who was practically driven from Kansas a ruined man, died here today.

In the most dramatic incident of American political history, the president of the United States was defendant prosecuted by the house of representatives before the chief justice of the supreme court, sitting as trial judge and a jury composed of the senate. At the close of the trial seven Republican senators voted with the Democratic minority against impeachment, the seventh and deciding vote being that of Senator Ross.

For this act in the face of threats of political annihilation, social ostracism, financial ruin and assassination, all but the latter became Ross' portion.

The case of Ross is probably one of the most pathetic, and the wreck driven between the capitalist who is an oppressor or swindler and the capitalist who strives to do right by all his fellows—the man who is an American citizen first and a capitalist second. And above all I want to express my absolute agreement with your final paragraph, running as follows:

"The Labor World has not a word to utter regarding the guilt or innocence of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone in their present terrible position. We hope they are innocent and will be proved to be so, but what we want to point out is that their innocence of the preferred charge against them will not, in our estimation, exonerate them from the charge of preaching an industrial and social policy that is damning to the best interests of the wage workers of the country."
